

Production of local Timber in Kuron: a step forward

On the 5th of May the two lumberjacks (John and Musema) arrived in Kuron. The two men have years of experiences with producing timber from South Sudan and they were therefore headhunted by the management of Peace Village. Musema and John have one mission in Kuron: to produce timber for peace village.

The two hard working men have already started the production. Around the youth centre trees are falling and timber are being split into all kind of sizes!

The remote location of Peace Village makes transport and procurement of materials a challenge. In the rain season it is almost impossible! This newly started production of local timber is there for fantastic news and it is a major step forward for HTPV and all activities concerning constructions, building and carpentry training of young boys at Vocational Training School.
